

The back parking lot
Sat. 11-27-09

Shot of the parking lot from the second floor landing. It's now opened up and spacious without worrying about dead trees or branches falling down and causing any damage.

New entrance and roof to cover the back door, kitchen and back stairway

New gutters are up on the front of the house.
Strong winds Saturday probably blew them off center.
The color looks sharp with the bricks on the house and all. Classy look.
