Sept. 2, 2009. (bottom picture)
You can see through to the old
Ace Room now.

Fire place without the mantel on Aug. 22, 2009 (left) and another side shot on Sept. 1, 2009. Note the framing to the left of the right-hand picture is only for support purposes.

With all the walls opened up, we discovered that the stairs from the third floor to the second used to come straight down, but were made to take a turn. Anyone know the year? It was likely done to accommodate the firewalls that enclosed the original stairwell for fire safety reasons.
